Range of Provision and inclusion information:
How we identify special educational learning needs as a school and how we seek the views, opinions and voice of pupils and their parents in planning to meet them.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> When students have identified SEND before they start at The Grange Academy, school liaise with the people who already know them and use the information they have available to identify and support SEND needs. All teachers are teachers of SEND and provide Quality First Teaching in the first instance, as detailed in the SEND code of practice 2015. School follows the graduated approach using the Assess Plan Do Review cycle. If a student does not appear to be making the same level of progress as other students of their age despite Quality First Teaching a concern will be raised and appropriate assessment will be undertaken if necessary. We will consult other professionals to identify possible barriers to their

	learning. Parents and carers will be involved at all stages. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • We are student and family centred and at all times we seek the views, opinions and voice of students and their parents and involve them in all decision making and planning to meet student's needs. • When we assess SEND we discuss if needs and difficulties are the same at school as at home; we take this into account in our work to help students. • We will write plans and liaise with students and parents/carers. Interventions and strategies are agreed, reviewed and amended on a regular basis. • We use homework to embed and practice activities that are new and present an achievable challenge. • Baseline assessment starts as soon as the student arrives. • Secondary specific – School hosts weekly internal Investigation and Assessment meetings attended by key representatives of SEND, safeguarding & attendance. • Year 7 cohort baselined. • Primary use WELLCOMM to screen each student.
What extra support we bring in to help us meet SEND: specialist services, external expertise and how we work together. For example health, social care, local authority support services and voluntary sector organisations.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • We have Autism specialist teachers and teaching assistants within the resource base department. • We also have a team of Teaching Assistants who support students across the school. • We have an internal team to support and direct work with external agencies covering all four areas of need. • We have support from specialist teachers for accessing the curriculum and additional input for specific needs e.g. speech, language and communication, visual and hearing impairment, autism spectrum conditions, moderate / severe learning difficulties and specific learning difficulties. • We get support from local authority services (including educational psychologists) and liaise with other trust schools in order to share good practice and expertise. • We have support from health services including CAMHS and a school nurse. • We have systems for contact with social care where appropriate. All school staff are fully up to date with safeguarding training and use CPOMS

	as a method of recording and logging any concerns. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • We are supported by occupational therapy and physiotherapy for students who require this input and specific resources. • We will hold multi-professional meetings. At these meetings the following types of discussions will take place; what will be put into place in school, agree targets for student's achievement. • Contact details for specialist services can be found on the local authority's website-Local Offer - https://localoffer.haltonfamilyhubs.co.uk/send-home

SEND Broad Areas of NeedCommunication and Interaction

6.28	Children and young people with speech, language and communication needs (SLCN) have difficulty in communicating with others. This may be because they have difficulty saying what they want to, understanding what is being said to them or they do not understand or use social rules of communication. The profile for every child with SLCN is different and their needs may change over time. They may have difficulty with one, some or all of the different aspects of speech, language or social communication at different times of their lives.
6.29	Children and young people with ASD, including Asperger's Syndrome and Autism, are likely to have particular difficulties with social interaction. They may also experience difficulties with language, communication and imagination, which can impact on how they relate to others.

Cognition and Learning

6.30	Support for learning difficulties may be required when children and young people learn at a slower pace than their peers, even with appropriate differentiation. Learning difficulties cover a wide range of needs, including moderate learning difficulties (MLD), severe learning difficulties (SLD), where children are likely to need support in all areas of the curriculum and associated difficulties with mobility and communication, through to profound and multiple learning difficulties (PMLD), where children are likely to have severe and complex learning difficulties as well as a physical disability or sensory impairment.
6.31	Specific learning difficulties (SpLD), affect one or more specific aspects of learning. This encompasses a range of conditions such as dyslexia, dyscalculia and dyspraxia.

Social, Emotional and Mental Health difficulties

6.32	Children and young people may experience a wide range of social and emotional difficulties which manifest themselves in many ways. These may include becoming withdrawn or isolated, as well as displaying challenging, disruptive or disturbing behaviour. These behaviours may reflect underlying mental health difficulties such as anxiety or depression, self-harming, substance misuse, eating disorders or physical symptoms that are medically unexplained. Other children and young people may have disorders such as attention deficit disorder, attention deficit hyperactive disorder or attachment disorder.

Sensory and/or Physical Needs

6.34	Some children and young people require special educational provision because they have a disability which prevents or hinders them from making use of the educational facilities generally provided. These difficulties can be age related and may fluctuate over time. Many children and young people with vision impairment (VI), hearing impairment (HI) or a multi-sensory impairment (MSI) will require specialist support and/or equipment to access their learning, or habilitation support. Children and young people with an MSI have a combination of vision and hearing difficulties. Information on how to provide services for deafblind children and young people is available through the Social Care for Deafblind Children and Adults guidance published by the Department of Health (see the References section under Chapter 6 for a link).
6.35	Some children and young people with a physical disability (PD) require additional ongoing support and equipment to access all the opportunities available to their peers.
